nan Soldier Must Not Defend Life or Honor Against Assault by Superior Officer. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

By Direct wire to the Times.)

BERLIN. Nov. 23.—(Exclusive Disputch.) The German soldier does not possess the right to reif-defense against attack by his superior. This amazing decisions has been banded down in a case just ended at Dessau. The facts of the case are as follows:

Sergt. Heine, who was drunk, entered a public dancing saloon and inspited two girls who were in the company of two soldiers, Guenther and Voight. The girls appealed to their companions for protection, and the soldiers protested to Heine, who drew his sword. He made a drunken lunge with the weapon and wounded one of the girls. A violent acutie ensued, in which Heine was disarmed and felled to the floor. Guenther and Voight were arrested for striking a superior officer.

In the equips of the trial the prisoners' counsel contended that they acted in self-defense. He declared it was possible for soldiers to defend honor and hie even against a superjor.

"Nothing of the sort," responded the prosecuting counsel. "Self-defense is a conception that does not exist in the relations between soldiers and their superiors."

chant Marine Commission resumed its session today. Senator Gallinger, the chairman, announced that the hearings were about concluded, but that the commission had thought it proper at this time to invite. Navy and Postoffice Department officials to be present today, the former to submit their opinion of the desirability of a merchani marine, as auxiliary to the navy, and the latter to speak for the benefits to accrue to the postal service as a result of an improved merchant marine. Secretary Mercalf of the Department of Commerce and Labor also was invited to attend the hearing.

Secretary Morton's view of the relation of the government to the merchant marine in the foreign trade was that it was simply a question of competition. He said that in order to build up a large American shipping interest in this country, it will be necessary to meet the competition of other nations. It will further be necessary, he declared, to in some way recognize the mail contracts, the subsidies, the houses and the premiums of Germany, England and other countries. The American owner of seagoing craft and the American sallor, he said, must be given equality in all respects, if they are not to be handicapped by foreign competition.

It was his idea that all ships built competition.

It was his idea that all ships built in this country should be constructed in accordance with plans approved by the Navy Department, so that in case of war the department could make good and efficient use of them. He added that he was not sure but that the seamen also should have mayal training.

claring that it was through nursing a particular British industry, the carrying trade, that England owed her supremacy on the seas today. Capt. Mahan said that American shipping should be encouraged to come into existence and to compete with the carrying trade of the world.

Rear-Admiral Harrington favored the building of steel ships, and said that the laws of the United States should be changed so as to permit the merchants of this country to run American ships as cheaply as foreign owners can run them. He declared that the merchant officera of the United States were all that could be desired as to competence, and that as regards education and training, they did not compare favorably with foreign merchant officers.

Capt. Usher, speaking of the Bureau of Navigation of the navy, said that the Navy Department was not disposed to suggest any plan which looked to the encouragement of the merchant marine through subsidies for speed, mileage or mail carrying vessels, but was disposed to favor navial premiums on ships to be built, and which fulfilled certain maval requirements.

Eugene Chamberlain, Commissioner of Navigation, Treasury Department, submitted a series of tables bearing on the commerce of the world. From these he showed that the exports of the United States largely exceeded the imports, and said that the imposition of discriminating duties would be likely to result disastrously to the trade of this country through retailatory action by the countries affected.

Replying to Senstor Gallinger, Mr. Chamberlain said he favored the granting of subsidies as a means of national defense.

Gen. Shallenberger's testimony concluded the meeting. He did not be-

Gen. Shallenberger's testimony concluded the meeting. He did not believe, he said, a mail service act alone would benefit more than a limited portion of American shipping. There must be some legislative act which would give to this country the selection of at least one line of steamers to each of the principal ports of the world.

SPOKANE (Wash.) Nov. 25.—The Chronicle today says: "The effort to carry through a huge mining enterprise is believed to be the chief cause of the closing of the Big Bend National Bank at Davenport, Wash., today. This enterprise is the driving of a tunnel into Paimer Mountain in Okanogan county for a distance estimated at two miles, cutting many veins of gold and silver ore at great depth. For several years C. C. May, the president, and ex-Lieut. Gov. F. H. Luce, as directors of the bank, have been backing the plan, and it is believed the bank is involved by loans to further the plan.

"The bank has been regarded with caution by other banks for months, and the collapse was not entirely unexpected. The bank had no branches, and, so far as known, was backing no business houses. Its depositors were mainly farmers, among whom President May had great personal popularity.

Crowds Gather at the Stations Along the President's Route to St. Louis and He Addresses Them Briefly.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

DITTSBURGH (Pa.) Nov. 25.-[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President this forenoon, by prompt action, averted what might have been a fatal accident. At Union Station while his train was waiting, there was an exchange of ongines. While the train of three cars stood detached, the President spoke to a large crowd. Just then a heavy engine backed down and hit the train

It seemed that the President felt the danger before the engine had really struck the train. In any event, before the jar had traveled to his end of the train he threw up his hand and shouted: "Back! Back, my friends! There's danger!"

The crowd struggled back not knowing why, but just in time to escape the car, which swing back several feet, a distance that would have been sufficient to throw many under the wheels, so tightly had they been wedged around the rear of the car.

Stops were made only at given stations, and at some of them hundreds had gathered to greet him and show their kindly feeling for him. Buth to the members of his party on the train and to the people, the President expressed the sincere pleasure he had felt in thus coming into close touch with those whom he likes to regard as his friends. He thoroughly enjoyed the rest he had today which was spent chiefly in reading and in chatting with Mrs. Roosevelt. At nearly every station where the train slowed up, the President appeared on the rear platform of his derivative of the propie. the claims to which they are accredited by patents issued by the General Land Office.

When court resumed this morning the government called A. W. Barber to the stand, and turned him over to the defense for cross-examination. He was kept under a fire of questions from Judge Pipes for half an hour, during which time the attorney for the defense sought to show that the period spent by the party in examining the territory was not long enough to permit a close examination of the various claims.

Barber's examination brought out the fact that there were several signs of habitation in the township; that several deserted cabins were found, but that none of these improvements were discovered on the claims in question.

W. A. Richards, Commissioner of the General Land Office, is en route to this city from Washington to appear as a witness. It is desired to prove by Ar. Richards that C. E. Loomis, formerly a special agent of the government, and S. B. Ormsby, also a government official, were empowered to administer an oath, a right which the attorneys for the defense deny they possessed. Commissioner Richards will report to Prosecutor. BERLIN, Nov. 25.—The Prussian army budget for the coming year is estimated at $115,000,000, an increase of $11,250,000. The Saxon army budget is placed at $11,000,000, an increase of $425,000, and that of Wurternburg at $5,500,000, an increase of $125,000. Of these additions of about one-tenth to the military expenses, $3,250,000 is for the creation of reserve field artillery, being one-ninth of the $23,-250,000 necessary for that purpose. The sum of $2,250,000 is appropriated as the first installment of $20,250,000 for new rifles. The addition to the peace strength when all the plans proposed are realized, will be about $15,000 men, raising the peace establishment to about $21,000 officers and men.

The old gentleman says: "One day the doctor told me my wife's trouble was not heart disease but her stomach, but she thought he was mistaken. Duing Gambler Roche Admits Felton Shot Him.

Takes Blame to Himself for Provoking Deed.

Prisoner Denies the Charge. Police Denounce Him.

In case of a raid they could escape in the same manner.

Twice within the last three months he has been a prisoner, each time for assuiting a woman, once with a cane. While the police thought this woman might have been the cause of the shooting, they say there was an old feud between the gamblers and that reiton had been pursued several times to various cities by Roche, who had threatened his life, and that Felton dinally had him arrested. Later, the men became reconciled and were walking along Broadway with a third man, who escaped in a cab when the shooting took place.

From the moment Roche was taken to the hospital the surgeons told him that his case was almost hopeless. The surgeons joined with the police in pleading with the wounded man to assent a section until today.

Feiton was later arraigned in Police Court, and held without ball for examination. Should Roche die before Sunday, the prisoner will betaken immediately before a magistrate and remanded.

man repeated his statement that Felton was his assailant, but insisted that the shots were fired in self-defense and that the act was justifiable. Roche told the Coroner that he had been drinking heavily yesterday, and that wille going along Broadway he met Felton in front of the Mariborough Hotel. After a few words a quarrel arose. Felton, he said, tried to soothe him, but his condition was such that he only became the word angered. He said that he told Felton that he was going to shoot him, and walked away to get a gun. He returned in a few minutes, and as he approached Felton he put his hand to his hip pocket to draw the weapon, which he says he had secured. At this movement, Roche told the Coroner, Felton drew his revolver and fired two shots at him.

Jucke declared that he had no relatives. At the moment he was saying this, however, a well-dressed young woman, who had previously called at the hospital and asked to see Roche, claiming to be his sister, was waiting for an opportunity to see him. Sife was permitted to see Roche after the Coroner went away.

Roche is about 35 years of age, and came here about ten years ago from Kentucky. The Coroner said that his death was only a matter of hours.

NEW YORK. Nov. 25.—Guy Roche, the gambler who was shot last evening in Broadway, user Thirty-fifth etreet, while the sidewalks were crowded with persons leaving the thesters after the matinées, was still alive at an early hour this morning. It was said at the New York hospital that he might live some time, but that there is small chance of his recovery. The arrest of Stewart A. Felton, known also by several other names, charged with the shooting, was one of the quickest cases of the kind managed by the police in some time. Two men who saw the shooting pursued Felton as he ran from Broadway to Seventh avenue, and took refuge in a saioon, where he was pointed out to a policeman. One of the pursuers was a stenographer, J. S. King. He went to the station and, at the request of the police, took on the spot the testimony of all the witnesses. King declared that he saw Felton fire at Roche, and George P. Auld, a paymaster in the army, confirmed his words, saying he stood close beside Felton at the time. Half a dozen other men were examined.

shot. When the prisoner was brought to the wounded man's bedside Roche said: "Yes, Frank shot me, but he was justified. I would have done the same to him." Then, addressing Feiton, who apparently had not been moved in the least by this declaration, the dring gambler said: "Goodby, Frank, old boy. I don't blame you."

Rische told the detectives that he and Feiton had quarreled, but that he could not recall the cause of the trouble. At the close of the interview the wounded gambler furned to Felton, and said: "Won't you shale hands. Frank?"

Felton did not reply, and did not appear to notice Roche's request.

"Oh don't act like that, Frank. We're old pals: shake hands with me, exclaimed Roche.

Felton'd did not turn his head, and the detectives then took him away. After the officers had entered a cab with their prisoner, they tried to put him through a third-degree inquisition. Suddenly in the midst of it Felton broke his silence.

"Say," he cried, "you have got me wrong. I never shot that man. I never carried a gun in my life."

The theory of the police is that Felton carried a revolver in the pocket of a light overcoat which they allege he wore at the time of the shooting and that the coat with the revolver still in the pocket was carried away by a confederate after the shooting had occurred.

Felton was later arraigned in Police Court, and held without ball for examination. Should Roche die be-Lively Debate at Federation of Labor Convention.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.-After pending almost the entire day in bit-er debate, the differences between the Brewery Workers Union and the Interspeaming aimset the entire day in onter debate, the differences between the Brewery Workers Union and the International Brotherhoods of Engineers, Firemen and Teamsters was today settied by the American Federation of Labor. The vote on every point at issue, with one minor exception, was against the Brewery Workers' Union. The Brewery Workers' Union claimed that all firemen, engineers and teamsters employed about breweries should join and come under the jurisdiction of the Brewery Workers' Union. The representatives of the International Brotherhoods of Engineers, Firemen and Teamsters objected to this and introduced a resolution to the effect that all workers in breweries be organized according to their respective crafts, and asked the convention to vote that all engineers, firemen and teamsters now in the Brewery Workers' Union shall leave the same and join organizations of their respective crafts.

For an hour, debate was indulged in on the proposition to substitute the word "may" for "shall" and the convention finally voted for the change.
This permits the engineers, firemen and teamsters to elect whether or not fley shall secede from the Brewery Workers' Union.

It was charged during the debate that the Brewery Workers' Union had filled the places of engineers and firemen on strike in St. Louis and Belleville, Ill., with non-union men, and thereupon organised the latter. It was requested that the American Federation of Labor compel the strikers to be reinstated, and the convention so voted. The convention likewise voted that all injunctions pending or obtained by the Brewery Workers' Union against other organizations be withdrawn or dissolved.

Santiago Iglesias, representative from Porto Rico, addressed the delegates and said that the condition of the workmen in his native land was worse onder the present régime than under that when Spain was in power. He averred that 600 Porto Ricans died each month from starvation.

The proposition to amaigamate the three central bodies of San Francisco was found to be an impossible task at the present time, as was the attempt to adjust the differences between the Brotherhood of Carpenters and the Association of Woodworkers.

The delegates unanimously voted to use every effort to make more effective the union label, and it was averred that the enemies to organized labor were endeavoring to destroy the label's meaning.

A resolution to do away with the Washington lobby committee was voted down after the socialistic delegates had made speeches in favor of its passage. AMENDMENT ADOPTED.

As an aftermath of the fight between the Chicago Federation of Labor and the American Federation of Labor, a constitutional amendment was adopted at tonight's session providing that any organization or person seceding, or being under suspension by the American Federation of Labor, shall be denied a seat in the annual convention of the sational hody. This was specially seat in the annual convention of the national body. This was specially national body. This was specially framed to cover such cases as that presented in the case of Delegate Mangan of Chicago. The amendment consisted in the addition of the words "or person."

An alpendment, similar in character, which provided that a city central body might denur to the seating of an objectionable delegate of a local union arillated with an international union, joined to the American Federation of Labor, but not deny the whole local union representation in the central labor body, was presented. This covered cases similar to that presented in the question of the seating of William Schardt, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor. The amendment was carried. The convention will elect officers tomorrow afternoon.

Earlier in the day, a report was current that an immediate effect of the

One of the prominent liberals who participated in the congress tonight declined to share in the jubilation of was sure to come in the end.

"All the members of the congress," he said, "are large landed proprietors.
A leveling process which would put

POBODONOSTZEFF A SHADOW.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

BT. PETERSBURG, Nov. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Associated Press correspondent today saw M. Pobodonostzeff, procurator-general of the Holy Synod, who is credited with having informed the Emperor, in connection with the presentation of the Zemstvos memorial to His Majesty, that no middle ground is possible at the present moment.

This remarkable man who has exercised so much influence in the counciled function and religion and religion. At their audience it is said they ex-plained fully their position and reiter ated the views expressed by the memo-rial, that the salvation of the empir from ruin by revolution lay in th-adoption of the general ideas expresses in the memorial. cil of the empire, is now a mere shadow, of almost four score years of age, and his tall, withered form seemed bowed beneath the weight of his finely-chiselled, domelike head.

YOUNG PUTNEY RETURNS. Son of Wealthy Virginian Who Dis-appeared from World's Fair Nine Days Ago Rejoins Family.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—Stephen Putney, Jr., the son of a wealthy Richmond (Ya.) shoe manufacturer, who disappeared nine days ago while visiting the World's Fair, returned today to the Hamilton Hotel, where his brother, Landere Putner in the control of the control Langhorne Putney, is stopping, in com-pany with a friend of the family, who had been sent to Kansas City to get had been sent to Kansas City to get him.

Young Putney, for whom the police and his relatives have been searching since the day after his disappearance, was in Kansas City all the time. It is stated. His family refused to discuss Stephen's return, saying that his explanation of his absence was satisfactory and that they desired no more publicity of the affair.

Young Putney, when he so suddenly disappeared, had with him jewels valued at more than $1000, and less than $100 in money. The story that young Putney was kidnaped is discredited by the police.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The report of the committee of inquiry in the case of Adolph Beck, who for the crimes of William Thomas, alias John Smith, served five years' imprisonment in England on the charge of obtaining money and jewels from women under false pretenses, places practically the entire blame for the miscarriage of justice upon the judge, Sir Forest Fulton, who excluded from Beck's trial in 1896 all evidence favorable to the accused.

The report exonerates the police and other officials from all charges of conspiracy, but finds that the action of the Home Office in dealing with the case was defective owing to lack of legal training on the part of the subor-

KALAMAZOO WILL CONTEST. KALAMAZOO (Mich.) Nov. 25.—Suit was filed in the Circuit Court today to reopen the estate of Henry Bress, a banker who died seven years ago. The estate was inventoried at $180,000 and settled on that basis, but heirs living in Modesto, Cal., claim that its value was between $500,000 and $1,000,000 and that a portion of the assets was concealed in the interest of other legatesa. Judge Adams of the Circuit Court has issued a temporary inunction restraining the disposal of certain property in Kalamazoo alleged to be part of the rightful assets.

FRANCE IN THE FAR EAST. PARIS, Nov. 25.—Premier Combes, discussing the foreign budget in the Chamber of Deputies today, said France's position in the East was not due to the French potectorate over religious missions, as the missionaries were not agents of commerce. Accordingly, the commerce of Great Britain, the United States and Germany, was steadily forging ahead of the commerce of France, despite the protectorate. If the missions disappeared, it would be as a result of the antagonism of the people of France.

NOT DUE TO LAZINESS.

"These people are not starving because they are lazy. Every inch of this miserable, shameful plot of ground that they can work, left them by a rich nation that can vote $5,000,000 for a battleship of a rally in this same city on a behalf of the starving government wards in Southern California.

SUNSET CLUH'S OFFERING.

Before the public meeting at Simpson Auditorium last night, at which Charles F. Lummis gave an illustrated account, of the famine two counties below its, was over a committee from the Sunset Club filed into the room hack of the stage and tendered Bishop Joseph H. Johnson, president of the squoya League here, a subscription of the toward the relief fund. Those Sunstters had done a handsome thing. They had been gathered at their regular monthly dinner at Levy's, and then and there, instead of adjourning, complacent in the company of their two full stomachs and oblivious of all stomachs and oblivious of all mapty ones, they had voted every eart in the club's treasury to the cause of their brown brothers and sisters in ROB THE BUZZARDS. of their brown brothers and sisters in the mountains, and had all chipped in to make the sum a round $100. Then a committee went up to the auditorium with the news. The committee was composed of J. O. Koepfii, W. C. Pat-erson, Charles Cassatt Davis, W. G. Barnwell, George W. Parsons and H. 5. Osborne.

stereopticon views, of the helpless condition of the 150 Indians on the five reservations known as Campo, La Posta, Cuiapaipa, Manzanita, and Leguna, drew to a close, the audience was fully aroused, and a substantial response in dollars and cents, as well as promises of clothing and other donations, was the result. There were individual contributions as high as $160, and the Newman Club has subscribed $55.

Over $500 is now in the hands of those who are handling the relief funds. This is the sum that it was stated from the platform would suffice with judicious application, to keep alive 130 of the most badly-off of the 150 Indians for six months.

A letter was received by Mr. Lummis during the afternoon from San Diego, stating that persons of that city who had been aroused to the relief work had started wagons off for the stricken communities bearing, seeds, that the natives may have that with which to start a crop, where they can.

Bishop Johnson presided, and urged the seriousness of the circumstances upon the people. He then introduced Mr. Lummis, Here are some of the statements wherewith this speaker aroused the audience to action.

"On my word as a man, I saw people down there who would die if they ate a full meal unprepared.

AWFUL SUFFERING.

"After twenty years among most of the tribes between Colorado and Chile, I saw more actual suffering there in San Diego county than I ever saw be-fore in my life. I saw hungrier peo-ple, colder people, than I ever saw in the slums of New York or Bogton, in the Andes, in Mexico or New Mex-izo.

and Some of its Inhabitants.

ROB THE BUZZARDS.

ROB THE BUZZARDS.

"We saw an old woman crawling through the brush hunting.

"Hunting quail? No. Rabbits? No. She had no shotgun or other meams to gather these in. She was hunting mice and lizards, for meat.

"As awful as it may seem, the only meut these people can get is from the decaying carcases of animals that die on the nearest ranges. As cleanly as they are in their habits naturally, they have come to robbing the buzzards for food.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

"Every one of us in this land is responsible, each in his own measure, for this condition among the first possessors of the soil. People ask, "Who is responsible for this terrible state of affairs?" and the answer is 'The government'—and that is you and I."

The speaker said that the movement to aid these starving neighbors in no way gives countenance to pauperizing them, or to supporting them without effort on their own part; but is simply to keep them from actual suffering, as the first rudiments of humanity demand, in their present entirely helpless situation, until by organized effort, permanent changes in their treatment can be brought about and a fair chance given them to ears a decent living.

The Sequoya League has begun work to this end. Lummis stated that instances have been known where the white settlers and the cattlemen have driven Indians from the privilege of the scant nourishment to be gathered under oak trees on their lands, begrudging them the acorns because they are good to fatten hogs.

"If these five reservations were thrown together and my enemy had a drove of 150 hogs that came in my way, hang me if I would turn them loose to root for a living there, with the exception of the little oak grove on the Laguna reservation, for acorns will do well enough for hogs.

The Most of Our Presidents Have Ber Beardless, and Only Two With

[New York Sun:] When Roosevelt is the second President with a mus-inaugurated on March 4, 1905, he will be the second President with a mustache. Cleveland was the first.

Whatever the Presidency of this country has done for the incumbents, it has not been productive of beards.

The first four Chief Executives were as clean shaven as Benedictine friars.

J. Q. Adams was the first to break the rule, but he was not a full-bearded President. His facial growth of hair hardly came up to what are usually termed side whiskers, but they were a trifle more expansive than the Scotch Presbyterian type.

When he retired the beardless President came in again with Jackson, but his successor. Van Buren, brought to the White House almost an exact pattern of the whiskers grown by J. Q. Adams.

William Henry Harrison again set the beardless face. The seven who came after were clean shaven.

When Mr. Lincoln was elected there was not a hair on his face, but before he finished his first term he wore a sparse beard, with clean-shaven upper lip. One of the authenticated stories is that he did this to please a child.

Grant was the first President with a full short beard. His immediate successor, Hayes, was the first to wear full long whiskers, covering his shirt front. Garfield also wore a full beard, but it was less luxuriant than that of Hayes.

Arthur, who was the most correct dresser of all the Presidents, was the but it was less luxuriant than that of Hayes.

Arthur, who was the most correct dresser of all the Presidents, was the first in the list to grow the Burnside type of whiskers.

Beajamin Harrison's beard was full, with a slight tendency to curl at the end, and was tinged with gray.

After Cleveland the clean-shaven face returned with McKinley. The moustache came in for the second time when Roosevelt succeeded.

Most of the Presidents were bountifully supplied with hair on top of their heads. The two Adamses were the first to show a slight tendency, to baldness.

Van Buren was bald on the forehead. Garfield was similarly marked.

Polk was the first and only President who wore his hair in the ante-bellum southern style. It was long and reached back from the front, over his ears. Buchanan was the first and only one, so far, to wear the top roach.

Cleveland in returning to his second administration showed a tendency to baldness. McKinley was not noticeably blessed with a heavy growth.

But no baldheaded man, as the term is understood, has yet been President of the United States.

This latter sentiment was, of course, campaign talk, and if there was exception to it, it was not evidenced.

Finally Owen McAleer appeared, and as he walked toward the platform the crowd arose and cheered him. He did not talk long, but what he said seemed to count. He first promised a clean, business-like administration, and thea told how he happened to take up the fight for greater transfer privileges from the street railways, which is given above.

CAMPAIGN PROSPECTS.

GAMPAIGN PROSPECTS.

ALL BRIGHT FOR M'ALEER.

"I have had reports today from every member of the Executive Committee, from all parts of the city, and I could anot ask for more favorable prospects," said Chairman McGarvin of the Republican City Central Committee last night. "I am sure we will win and I could not be more positive about any future event than that Owen McAleer will be elected Mayor. When I asked for the reports which were made today I told the members that I wanted no favorable reports unless there was good foundation for them. I wanted the simple truth in order to size up the situation, and what I received more than satisfied me. Of course there are weak spokes; we do not expect to carry every precinct, but we will carry a sufficient number of them to place McAleer in the Mayor's office.

"The business men seem to be conscious of the fact that McAleer will give them a clean, honest administration; that they will always be able to tell what he can be depended upon to do; that his actions. Will be governed solely by a desire to advance the best interests of the city. We are not making a noisy, rea-fire campaign, but a much more effective one. The reports are more than encouraging." sae purpose before taking any mit action seemed to be first to be and a second the second that the second that votes of tnose who know him best, he is advanced to the Mayoralty of our city."

Mr. McAleer was greeted with continued applause and in his brief address said: "If I am elected I piedge you a good clean business administration, with the assistance of the very best men I can get to serve on the various commissions. I shall work for your interests all the time, and when you want to see the Mayor, just come up to his office as you are and you will always find a hearty welcome."

Mr. Myers, candidate for City Treasurer, presented his claims, and stated that his occupation for the past twenty years had been either in clerking, banking or commercial enterprises which had specially trained him for the duties of the treasurer's office; and that for the past five years he had been a deputy in the office of the County Treasurer.

E. R. Werdin spoke in the interests of his candidacy for street superintendent, and was followed by E. E. Selph, one of the Republican-nominees for the Board of Education, who is a resident of the Sixth Ward. He was followed by John Scholl, candidate for Sixth Ward councilman.

Walter Haas poured hot shot into the enemy's camp. Mr. Haas devoted much of his time to the mayoralty contest "Mayor Snyder's last two elections were not due to his merit, but to unfortunate Republican squabbles," said Mr. Haas.

"What has Snyder done so remarkable? Vetoed the freight-carrying franchise? Let me say that for nine days of the ten which he had in which to sign the ordinance, he was as close-mouthed as could be. After the newspapers had come out in denunciation of the franchise, and the people began to express their condemnation, then it was that Snyder found just where he stood. If you have noticed the newspapers you will have seen that every time there is a matter of special importance it to the public, Snyder has urgent business in San Francisco.

"He was a member of the Charter Revision Commission, and every time an important matter would come up, he would speak on both sides and then beg to be excused wh

FLORIDA ORANGES POOR. East-

There was nothing done at the Produce Exchange yesterday, no new quotations being made by the board. The coming banquet on December 9 is the only matter in sight, the arrangements for which are now under way. The local market opened brisk yesterday after the holiday. There was plenty of trading in most lines though some, notably some fruit and vegetable dealers, reported business somewhat dull. The Thanksgiving trade in turkeys was immense, probably 50 per cent. greater than last year, according to one dealer. In those lines not affected by the holiday trade, dealers mostly reported ousiness somewhat brisker in consequence of the holiday intervening. The poultry market is very little changed as to prices. Turkeys were well cleaned up by the holiday trade and this line will be alack until the Christmas trade opens. The fish markets were the only wholesale concerns that kept open on Thanksgiving Day, and they for the most part did business until noon on account of Friday's trade.

The supply of large fish is still short but the smaller stock is plentiful and more than equal to the demand. This is the case with both smelt and lobsters.

Game is quite plentiful, with the exception of rabbits, almost none of which appear to be coming.

Oranges are unchanged. A carload of Portervilles was received yesterday and placed on the market at $2.50 a box.

A car of dates was received yesterday. Persians are quoted at $7c a box: Fards in 60-lb. boxes 9610c per pound.

Painful injuries.

William Leverich, formerly a policeman but now employed in the city street department, was thrown from a wagon at First and Vignes street yesterday afternoon, austaining painful injuries about the head and face. He was sent to the Emergency and General Hospital, New Oil Company.

Fisher's Hoodes.

The ill-luck of John C. Fisher, California theatrical manager, seems to pursue him. Word was received in this city yesterday that the leading actress of "The Silver Slipper" company, now on its way to play an engagement in Los Angeles, had been seriously injured by a piece of falling scenery in Texas. She is still being cared for and it is thought will make a good recovery. This is the third serious mishap to Fisher's enterprises in as many weeks, and a number of minor ones preceded them.

Rain-maker Hatfield.

"Prof." C. M. Hatfield, the rain-maker, will have another crack at the clouds next Monday night. About Wednesday of next week Mr. Hatfield agys it will be raining. He will start from the city this morning with his chemical tewer, which is a sort of chimney designed to create a draught. His proposed action on the elements is entirely of a phemical character, the shooting being done with smells, not cannon balls. The experiments will be continued for five successive days in Altadena. Mr. Hatfield objects to people laughing at his rain-making; he says that this is to be a perfectly serious rain.

CAMPAIGN HEATED BY LOS ANGELES WOMEN.

First Entrance of Fair Sex Into Practical Politics in This Bailiwick. Mass Meeting Called for Non-Partisan School Board.

Today marks a notable epoch city. This was done, and effectively done. A meeting was held the day before Thanksgiving of all the club meeting this afternoon at the Friday wom-Morning Club of the first wom-an's campaign committee ever formed in this city for the purpose of doing a definite work in an election. presidents and plans were laid for further action.

They will not have to work alone in this first venture. The Municipal League, recognizing that the women are a power in the land when they set their heads and hearts to the accomplishment of an object, sent a deputation to confer with the board of the Friday Morning Club, that being the first club to indorse the project. W. C. Patterson. J. M. Elliott and A. P. Fleming consulted with the board and made a number of suggestions as to the method of procedure. The main suggestions adopted were that the clubs shall work in connection with the Municipal League and that a mass meeting be called to arouse enthusiasm in behalf of this board.

The mass meeting will be held at Simpson Auditorium next Tuesday or Wednesday evening, and fine speakers will be induced to address the interested crowd that will throng there

The Friday Morning Club, with over 100 members; the Ruskin Art Club, with over 100 members, and the Wednesday Morning Club, with over 100 members, and the Wednesday Morning Club, with over 100 members, have all given it their public indorsement. But this has not been deemed enough by these earnest women with the welfare of the schools at heart. Each club has appointed a committee of two women each, who will go out and solicit the influence of people not within the reach of the clubs. The churches are to be approached by this intrepid campaign committee. The ministers are to be requested to give this matter attention in the pulpit, and to give ope morning in each church to set forth the benefits to accrue from this reform.

The women's societies in each church will be enlisted and every man, woman or child who can be of use in booming the cause will be reached by this committee. Mrs. W. C. Patterson and Mrs. Berthold Baruch of the Friday Morning Club, Mrs. J. B. Foster and Mrs. Thomas Sharp of the Wednesday Morning Club, with the policy in the committee of two women is club are the members of this committee, and it is rumored that the chairman will be appointed from the Ebell Club.

The first women to take up the matter further than the public indorsement were the board of the Friday Morning Club, composed of Mrs. Ella Fried W. Concerted action has been taken by the largest women's clubs in the city, and though they have never sought such decided recognition before, they are now banded together for their debut in politics. They want something, and mean to have it.

W. J. Washburn, C. C. Davis, J. M. Guinn, Joseph Scott, J. D. Bicknell, J. S. Slauson and E. H. Wilson—these are the men nominated for the board proposing to take the affairs of the schools out of politics, and it is this board to which the four largest women's clubs have given their support. George W. Magwood's Arrest Unjustifiable—President Venzke Makes Apology.

Fred W. Venzke, president of the Bald Mountain Mining Company, who caused the arrest of George W. Magwood on a charge of falling to account for certain sales of stock, is convinced that he was in error, and acted too hastily. Magwood has explained all of his transactions in a perfectly satisfactory manner, and the case against him has been dismissed.

management of the sale of shares of the Bald Mountain Mining Company. His apprehension by me came through a misunderstanding on my part, caused by the confliction of some correspondence of one of the stockholders. He has thoroughly vindicated himself out of court, and will continue his services with the company as usual. I have found him to be honest, competent and reliable as a business man, and think more of him than ever. His friends offered, without seeing him, $20,000, if need be, for any wrong that he had done.

Therefore I consider it my duty to do all I can to correct the error of judgment on my part. Had I met him before I saw the officers, he would not have been put to the humiliation that all came through a mistake:

Down at Seventh street there is little to indicate the large plans that are under way. Through a hole, less than two inches in diameter, the three-strand heavy cable was being stretched taut from the top of the high pole to a base within the offices which will connect with the delicate receiving and transmitting instruments whose mysteries are only partly known to the man who will sit at the desk ingering the receiver.

Out in the laboratory men are working on the pieces of wonderful mechanism, and only the thoroughly loitlated can tell of the various uses to which the shining brass instruments will be placed. The laboratory will be maintained, even after the plant is in operation, in order to obviate the possibility of having to close down for repairs. NEW PROJECT TO PIERCE COURT STREET HILL.

Granting a petition from members of the Hill Street Improvemen: Association, the Board of Public Works yesterday recommended the construction of a tunnel on North Hill street, extending from First street morth to Temple street.

This improvement has been petitioned for repeatedly by property owners on Hill and Temple streets, and a year ago the Hill Street Improvement. Association passed a resolution indorsing the project, But like all other improvements which can only be made by the expenditure of many thousands of dollars there has always been a difference of opinion among those financially interested as to the most practical plan for securing the improvement.

GRAND JURY'S REPORT DUE.

The appearance of grand jury experts at unexpected times and in unexpected places about the City Hall, has given rise to rumors that a number of departments are being investigated. This, coupled with the fact that election is approaching and the candidates for eight of the nine general municipal offices are at present city officials has occasioned a general feeling of uneasiness and uncertainty. The average city is service employed looks and acts as though he were working over a slumbering volcano that is likely to burst forth into an active eruption at any moment.

Monday the grand jury will make its final report and there are a number of officials who demean themselves as though they would give a good dean to know just where the lightning is going to strike.

Street Superintendent Werdin is defiant. He says that he has nothing to fear and that, if the grand jury comines itself to a report of facts, all criticism will be favorable to his department. But an expectant hush hovers over his office showing that this feeling of confidence does not extend to his employes.

The Board of Public Works yester-by recommended to the Council the construction of a tunnel piercing Court-street hill and opening Hill street from First to Temple atreet.

Persistent but quiet investigation of municipal records by grand-jury experts has occasioned a feeling of apprehension about the City Hall as to where the lightning is going to strike.

Jake Castile, the elder of the two brothers charged with having robbed Morris Ellis, a peddier, of money and merchandise, was brought to trial yesterday before Judge Smith. On account of the desperats character and record of the men the case is attracting a good deal of interest.

There was a slip in the setting for trial of the case of E. S. Ellis, the street Inspector, indicted by the grand jury. The matter will be disposed of this morning.

nanian Jew Peddler Tells Story

Jake Castile is up against a hard proposition in Judge Smith's court, and he knows it. He and his brother Si are charged with robbing a Roumanian Jew named Morris Eilis on the highway near Montebello, in the early part of last, August; under circumstances of reckless daring.

As a fitting finale to the robbery, Jake and Si turned upon the deputy sheriffs who ran them to earth at the Whitewater Ranch, after a hard five days' chase, and made such a savage eight that it is a wonder no one was killed.

Now Jake is up for trisl, and is intently following every move made by the prosecution. He is a well set-up man, with raven-black hair and the square jaws that indicate great determination. There are especial reasons why Jake Castile should take a arimute interes: in his prosecution and every step taken to send him to the penitentiary, for if he is convicted it means practically that his life will end ocinind the bara.

He was sent up for four years in 1855, from Riverside county, for having been engaged in cattle-stealing han pardoned him. In 1888 he was a firested for robbing a man at San Bernardino, in company with another ough character named Burna. Jake on the subsequently he was charged with killing a team of mules in ventura county, but was able to brove an alibi.

It is on account of his record that Jake is watching as a cat does a mouse every move made by the prosecution, which is being conducted by Deputy District Attorner's Donnel and Fleming. Gen. Johnstone Jones is defending the case, but he was unable to control the forces behind his client yesterday, and they threatened to prejudice Jake somewhat. The father, mother, aunt, sister and one or two other of Jake's relatives had lined up in court, and when the defendant was trought in it served as a signal for several of the women to set up a great how!, It was not crying, as that term is ordinarily understood, but how far this crying indicated a fincere sorrow and sympathy for Jake, was shown at the noon recess, Deputy Sheriff Kerrigan slipped the handcuffs upon the defendant's wrists preliminary to taking him back to jall, and as he led him away his sister, Mrs. Parasett, approached through the handcuffs. Then, shaking her fist at the officers, she exclaimed: "I'd like to cut your throat, just as you would yut the throat of a dog."

Mrs. Parazett is not a common specimen for he virage type. She is good-looking and well-dressed, though with a stern look about the corner of her mouth.

Ex-sheriff E. C. These stuttering institutes are at loggerheads, and the Detroit Lewis has brought an injunction suit to restrain the Los Angeles Lewis from using the thunder he is charged with having purtoined while in the employ of the Michigan establishment.

All of this is very grievous to George Andrew Lewis and he wants the court to enjoin Charles Gordon Lewis from using all the literature he has taken away, and from in any way infringing upon his rights in the name of his school for stutterers and stammerers. EXTRADITION HANGS FIRE.

The habeas-corpus proceeding in which J. F. Harcourt is concerned, and which had been continued over from Friday last, was continued by Judge Smith yesterday until next Monday. Earl Rogers and Luther Brown, who were fighting the extradition to Tucson. Ariz., retired from the case and it is quite possible now that the extradition papers may be granted. But the complaint that is out against Harcourt for swindling Mr. Steinfeldt of Tucson out of $12,500, on a deposit of diamonds, is claimed to be faulty and will need to be amended before there will be any chance of holding the defendant. which had been continued over from

NO SPEEDY TRIAL.

The trial of E. S. Ellis, the street in-spector in the office of the City Super-intendent of Streets, who was indicted set by Judge Wilbur for December 13, but that date wouldn't stick. It's a hoodoo number, anyhow, and, besides, Earl Rogers had discovered that he is engaged in a horse-stealing case at Corona on that date, and therefore could not possibly be present. These facts were presented to Judge Wilbur yesterday, and a demand again made that the case be brought to trial some time next week. Dist.-Atty. Fredericks wouldn't agree to that. He said that he could not consent to going to trial without being informed. Luther Brown reminded him that he had been before the grand jury, and consequently was as well informed as he probably ever would be. But Mr. Fredericks maintained that he couldn't be ready inside of thirty days, and the court told the attorneys to fix upon the date, and he would set the case. The defense then remarked that they desired any dafe before December 5, and the prosecution wanted any day after December, 5, and that being the tie-up, the matter was continued until this morning to see if the trial of the see in the see if both sides can agree as to a date. on four counts by the grand jury, was set by Judge Wilbur for December 13,

LI_OYD DIVORCE. Mrs. A. M. Lloyd was granted a divorce from John Lloyd by Judge York yesterday, on the ground of desertion. The parties were married in Jowa, in 1885, and in May, 1900, he abandoned his home. The friction in the family was caused by the husband's disinclination to work. The wife had to support the household, and after coming to this county conditions were no better. Lloyd would not work, and when he received some money from a suit at law in which he had been engaged, he gave his wife 310 to pay bills with, and with the balance of the money skipped out to Arisona. GOUVERNEUR

"It is impossible in a summary to convey the charm and seriousness of this book. The style has a dignity, an almost archaic simplicity that lends itself at once to the parable of progress and the stern details of history itself. The success of the book lies in the way it suggests the crude colors of the life in the 'dark, backward and abysm of time.' "—Erening Post. Illustrated by John Roe. $1.00 the betting ring was jammed from start to finish. Even though it was the second day of the meeting and many of the starters were hated as much as mothers-in-law, the sports didn't cut things out but went at some things with determination. Everyone was looking for information and only a few could get it for few had it themselves. Stable tips were about as bad as they make 'em and it was largely a case of guess them yourself. The betting was brisk and after the finish all the struggle seemed pathetic when there wasn't a close race of the six and when no two horses in any race seemed equal.

It is not to dream of Utopia to be assured that the formation of an international police is a practicable thing.

It is not to be brought about at once, said Herbert Gladstene, but it is not therefore removed from the domain of practical politics. It is certain that the peace of Europe will never be willingly disturbed by England or by the United States, and the interests of France are only to be found in the preservation of continental peace. She is moving further away from the idea of a war of revenge. That old motive might be revived by outside happenings; it will never operate spontaneously from within. German ambitions are of some danger, and Russia is thought a recognized peril to the world at large. But if the United States, Great Britain and France could be brought into line they could at once make this great ideal a reality. If they said together, "It is time to police this planet—we invite the coöperation of all nations—we promise loyally to abide by our own laws—and any power or combination of powers which makes war without appealing to an international committee, shall find us in united array against it." It they thus spoke together war would air once make this great ideal a reality. If they said together, "It is time to police hips planet—we invite the coöperation of all nations—we promise loyally to abide by our own laws—and any power or combination of powers which makes war without appealing to an international committee, shall find us in united array against it." It they thus spoke together war would air, Austria and Japan would come readily into such a bond. We should have our world policed just as we have our streets policed already, and order would prevail. It is no use to call international furt

"Education" and the Zoo.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In the midst of the enthusiasm regarding the proposed enlarged "zoo" at Eastlake Park, I trust you will allow a few words in the interest of fairness. . The desire for "zoos," menageries and similar institutions is a relic of a primitive past, in which man plumed himself on subduing the sub-human creatures, and making them prisoners to be tyrannized and gloated over. The only "education" worth mentioning connected with the gratification of this desire is one in the wrong direction. For it implants in the mind of youth a tendency to ignore the principle of and to look with indifference or annusement on the deprivations of creatures with feelings, especiations and desires like our own. To prove this, one has only to study the appearance of the creatures in a soo—"prisoners without a crime." What wretchedness, rage, restlessness, lethargy, hopelessness is there depicted! They are as much like the creatures nature intended them to be as a withered limb is like the arm of the athlets. Pacing us and down, sulking in despair, or parily paralyzed from inactivity, they are living examples of man's cru-

UNEQUALED ADVERTISING RECORD.

The Los Angeles Times printed 3485 columns of paid advertising during the month of October, 1904, exclusive of official city advertising, which amounted to 295 columns. the corresponding period of last year 2969 columns were printed, showing a gain of 516 columns.

This volume for October, 1904, breaks all previous records for Times advertising, and is an average of 112 advertising, and is an average of 112 columns for every day of the month—a showing which is probably equaled by no other newspaper in America. For the same month the two local morning opponents of The Times printed together only 2513 columns of paid matter, showing this journal to have printed 972 columns more than both.

MOTOROFORDED TOMEN'S CLUBS.

THE PARTY NUMBER 26, 1904.

In the many circles at the Friday Morning Club yesterday which formed the literary round tables for the discussion of "Nature Writers, Old and New." there was one possessing a peculiar charm. It was presided over by Mrs. Alice Davidson, with Mrs. Sarah Hubbard of Chicago for its honored greet.

An easy chair had been brought out for this distinguished guest and she made a rare picture with the dark nackground, for her hair is snowy white and is still in the quaint curis that she wore in her girlhood, for she mays she has never changed her style of head dress; her eyes are bright and mine with keen intelligence.

At the close of the round tables, shen the summing up of the morning was conducted by Mrs. Willoughby todman, Mrs. Hubbard was one of the peakers from the platform, giving the warers a glimpse of her admiration to Thoreau, whom she represented as its apostle of good cheer.

"Never have a mean hour," she pated from her favorite; "let every new be a grateful one and accept that it brings." "He always kept a sture book beside him," said Mrs. subbard, "as an elixir to tone up his yetem."

H. C. Weld took up the pledge of Los Angeles county, made last year, to raise $1250 as her share for the support of a field secretary and secured subscriptions for between $700 and $500.

The morning session was occupied by the reports of the officers and an address by Field Secretary Gibson. The letter was designed to inspire new zeal among workers.

The afternoon session was in charge of the primary workers, Mrs. C. A. Baskerville, presiding. Mrs. Hattle E. Burmeister's subject was: "Why a Cradle Itoll?" Mrs. Howard L. Rivers answered the question; "Why a Beginner's Course??" and Mrs. Sidney Guest spoke on "Our Junior Outlook." The latter among her practical hints on how to hold the children in a class, said: "Take them for an outing now and then and don't ask them to pay their carfare nor prepare a lunch; you can do that."

wise be the forty-third anniversary of his birth. The development not only in Immanuel Church, but in the section of the city surrounding it, has been something marvelous in those years, and Dr. Walker will have an interesting story to tell on the morning of Detember 6. A reception will be tendered in his honor on Monday evening, Detember 5, at which time it is hoped by those having the matter in charge, a memorial tablet will be unveiled to the memory of Rev. Dr. Chichester, under whose pastorate the present Immanuel Church was built in 1890.

An incident of the move of Dr. Chichester and his congregation to war the southeast, going from downtown, was the start of the spread of Presbyterian; is min the city. Dr. Chichester was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Second and Broadway; he was an eloquent and popular preacher, but concluded that things were too cramped for him in the old quarters; he told the congregation to get a new preacher, as he was going farther out to start a church for himself, adding that he would like to have a few members go with him as a nucleus for his new work.

The result was that he began temporarily in what is now Abbotsford inn, at Eighth and Hope streets, whither he was followed by about 130 of his members, the bulk of the congregation and in 1850 built the present Church at Tenth and Figueroa streets. If some of those persons who opposed for Chichester fourteen years ago, on the ground that "the man is crany to move away out there in the country," were to wake from their long sleep were long the long land the long land the long land the long land the long lan who organised the Central Prespiration Church and worshiped in halfs until a couple of years ago, when, under the inspiration of Rev. A B. Prichard, they secured their "present place of worship, at Second and Hill streets.

A handsome tablet, commemorative of the wisdom and devotion of Dr. Chichester, has been ordered made, with the idea of having it in place in the church to be unveiled at the anniversary celebration.

Dr. Day's Ten Years.

"These Ten Years." will be the subject of the discourse by Rev. Dr. Warren F. Day, pastor emeritus of the First Congregational Church, on Sunday morning. The day is the tenth anniversary of Dr. Day as pastor of the church over which his son, Rev. William Horace Day, is now the active pastor, while the father remains as pastor emeritus. SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 27.

Slowly the world is advancing to the great Christian conception of brother-hood. The lines that divide nations are becoming dimmer every day. Whatever happens anywhere on the earth is but a neighborhood affair. If the natives of the Congo are ill treated, London and Washington are concerned. If the Jews' in Russia or the Armenians in Turkey are persecuted, champions and defenders arise on both sides of the globe. We are all bound up in one bundle of life; the welfare of one is the welfare of all. Now, this twentieth century national chivalry, if so it may be called, has a direct bearing upon this topic. For men are coming to see that the blighting of the characters of weaker nations by run and opium is a large fact, with other significance than burely religious or social. The strong cannot afford to stand by and see the weak crushed out by these evils of civilization. The movement for the suppression of the liquor fraffic in the Southern Pacific islands, which interested the official heads of most Christian nations, is certain to

TOO MUCH WICKEDNESS.

WHITTIER, Nov. 23.—Whittier, which is usually a most orderly and peace-loving community, today broke its record, having three cases brought to trial before Justice Gidley. The first was that of Frank and Ed Curlew on the charge of disturbing the peace. Their mix-up occurred in the small hours of the night on Greenleaf avenue. The charge was dismissed against Ed. Curlew; his brother, having pleaded guilty, was fined $5. The second case was that of Ed Curlew against Blake, growing out of the first trouble.

The third pertained to a hobo with a "jag," who "blew into town" in the morning, and in the course of a somewhat erratic career through the city gathered in several fancy purses from Tuttle's curio store, waiving the formality of paying for them. He was given 30 days.

W. A. Vernon, who left Whittier for Tulare fourteen months ago, has returned to Whittier to make his home on the Bates ranch, for which he exchanged his Tulare property.

BURBANK, Nov. 25.—The funeral of Mrs. Fanny Frye was held today at 10:30 a.m. at the Methodist Episcopal Church, conducted by the Rev. George Groff. Burial was in Pasadena. Mrs. Frye was aged 91 years, and until recently had been in comparatively good health and kept house for her son, David who, with his three sisters, mourn her loss.

Union Thanksgiving services were held in the Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday. The church was filled and a collection was taken for the Children's Home Society of Los Angeles, according to the usual custom. Rev. E. D. Chapin preached.

The three sisters of Rev. E. D. Chapin, for years missionaries in China, came out from Los Angeles to spend Thanksgiving with their brother and his wife.

Alleged Victim of Diamond Swindle for Which Harcourt is Now in Les Angeles Jail Secures Judgment for Amount of His Less—Suit Against Former Treasurer.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.) (NIECIAL CORRESTONDENCE OF THE TIMES, I TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 22.—A two-story brick building on Congress street, owned by Exra Bartlett and used by him to house his "Legal Tender" sation and gambling rooms, has been attached on the basis of a judgment for $12,500, just issued from the District Court in favor of Albert Steinfeld. The property is quite valuable, and immediate realization of the judgment may diate realization of the Judgment may even be aided by the fact that the broadening of Congress street, already ordered, will necessitate tearing down the structure on condemnation.

Bartlett is well able to raise ine amount, however, as he is locally cred-ited with being worth at least $100,000.

amount, however, as he is locally creatived with being worth at least $100,000. He has disappeared from the town and is believed to be in Los Angeles communicating with the alleged diamond swindler, Harcourt, whom he is charged with having abetted in buncoing Steinfeld. A warrant has been issued for Bartlett's arrest, the charge being "false and fraudulent representation with intent to defraud."

Since Bartlett's trouble began much has appeared locally of a derogatory nature. Many of the local gamblers are very bitter toward him; they claim he is not a true "sport," but that he maintained a room on the upper floor of his building where victims were fleeced in crooked games and even were and with knockout drops that they might be more easily robbed. For years he has been known as a quarrelesome man and continually has been in litigation with his employes. Steinfeld is still holding onto the Jawelry pledged to him for the loan. Experts have valued his holdings at no more than $500.

SUED FOR SHORTAGES.

The first result of the recent investigation into the county offices of Glia gation into the county offices of Gila county has been a suit instituted against former County Treasurer A. H. Morehead and his bondsmen for restitution to the county of shortages during defendant's two terms in office. Darring one term the shortage is alleged to have been $3759.76, and for the second term, ended in December, 1902, $3708.98. Among the bondsmen are Alonzo Bailey of Los Angeles and Charles Holzman of San Diego.

TO COLLECT BACK TAXES. TO COLLECT BACK TAXES.

TO COLLECT BACK TAXES.

Through the Attorney-General, the Territory is attempting to force the county of Cochise to collect from the Copper Queen Company back taxes claimed to be due the Territory in the sum of $99,391. The Board of Supervisors has compromised the case with the Copper Queen Company, but the Territory refuses to abide by the compromise, as one-third of the sum released to the company naturally would have been turned over to the Territorial Treasurer for Territorial uses. The Copper Queen Company refused to pay the full tax on the ground that the assessment had been improperly made and that the property had been inquitably assessed. The Territorial Supreme Court decided against the company and it was while the matter was still pending in the District Court that the compromise was made.

NOW A REPUBLICAN. NOW A REPUBLICAN.

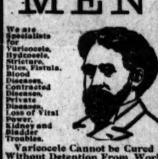

The Republicans of Pima county held a grand lovefeast in celebration of their sweeping the field in the county election. The banquet was particularly notable from the fact that it was participated in by ex-Gov. L. C. Hughes, editor of the Tucson Star, a man whe for thirty years has occupied a prominent position in the Democratic party of the Territory. Gov. Hughes states that he wishes to be henceforth considered a Republican, for he sees no hope for the Territory's advancement in Democratic hands.

When Man is Really Old.

There has been very little, if any, change in the duration of man's life since the days of the patriarchs—that is, some 4000 or 5000 years ago. Everyone did not attain to great age in those days noy more than they do today, for various reasons stated in the Bible. Abraham lived to be 175 years old (but his two younger brothers appear to have died before him.) Abraham's wife, Sarah, lived to be 127 years old; Isaac lived to be 187; Joseph lived to be 137; Jacob lived to be 137; Joseph lived to be 137; Joseph lived to be 137; his son, Moses, lived to be 120; Anron was three years older than his brother, and died some years before him; Joshua lived to be 110.

The number of persons reported in 1960 as centenarians—and—over was: England, 170; Ireland, 578; Scotland, When Man is Really Old.

Supply and Demand New About Equal—Baca Oil Company Ready to Begin Drilling in Santa Maria Field—List of Companies in the

For some time past the price of disliliates on the local market has been steadily falling, and has now reached cents, whereas they formerly brought 'Il. Yesterday dealers in this line said that the price was much firmer, and that they do not anticipate any further frop for the present. A more active mand is now reported, and this is expected to stop any further decline, although there are as yet no indicafions of an advance. Supply and demand are reported to be about equal.
The distillate market affects the refineries, of which there are a number in this city, and to a certain extent many others interested in the oil industry. Refining oils are obtained from all the southern fields, and asphaltum and distillate are also made from the Kern products.

SANTA MARIA COMPANY.

The Baca Oil Company, a corporation

The Baca Oil Company, a corporation recently organized by Max Grosmayer, formerly of Bakersfield, S. M. Johnson and others, is about to commence drilling on 250 acres it has secured in the Santa Maria field, where its headquarters are located. The land is about a mile borth of the Purisima wells of the Union Oil Company. This is in what is considered an excellent part of the field. It will be not far from the pipe line to Port Harford, now in course of building by the Union Oil Company, which will be used for carrying the oil of all companies to tidewater, and its completion is expected to cause a great increase of business and development work in the field.

FROM FIELD TO SEA. IBT THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.] SANTA MARIA, Nov. 25.—A promi SANTA MARIA, Nov. 25.—A prominent oil company is laying a pipe line from its wells south of town to Port Harford, where large tanks for storage are being placed. This will connect the local oil fields with all coasiwise transportation. The new town of Orcutt, on the Southern Pacific Coast Line, within a mile of the oid territory, is making rapid progress. The town of Santa Maria is filled with employes of the oil companies. There is not a vacant house here and much building is in progress. A new national bank, making the third of that kind in the place, will soon be opened, and the electric light plant is being enlarged.

ANCIENT MASK.

umpock School offered a unique bit of dramatics last evening to a large audience. The piece was a literal ren-of dramatics last evening to a large sudience. The piece was a literal rendition of Ben Jonson's old mask, 'The Hue and Cry After Cupid,' first performed at the nuptial festivities of Lord Viscount Haddington in 1608, and thereafter shelved and forgotten amid the dusty archives of some antiquarian. The manuscript was unearthed in the British Museum last summer by Garnet Holme.

A pretty stage setting served as a background for a marriage party, clad in the finery of 300 years ago. The dramatic work was written as a personification of ancient Greek deities and graces. An allegory in form, it combined declamation and dialogue, music and dancing, in bewildering style. The terpsichorean fascination, however, consisted only of a stately, minuet-like promenade, participated in by the make-believe lords and ladies of the Haddington household.

Among the principal characters were Venus, impersonated by Miss Snow Longley, and Hymen, enacted by Alfred Wilkes. Others, who look part were Miss Gladys DeWitt, Mrs. Lulu Botsford Parker, Mrs. Edith Jewel Wilson, Marcus Scott, E. Evans and K. M. Gitt. Miss Jane Butt read the apithalamium. Not to be forgotten is pretty little Helen Afkinson, clad in pink-winged daintiness as Cupid. In iddition there were a host of others, including the dancing party, Cupid's sports, There was no acting, the mask being merely a pretty spectacle, one of its great merits consisting in its brevity.

High Buildings Settled.

W. Horace Lange, representing the North American Building Statistics Society of Philadelphia, has just completed an inspection of Buffalo's high office buildings, the measurements being made annually for the society's table of statistics of the various "sky-scrapers" in the United States. Mr. Lange found that two of Buffalo's buildings had settled about 1½ inches during the past four years, but he ascribes the settling to batural causes, which need cause no alarm. His measurements are made with an inkrometer, an instrument so delicately adjusted that it measures the height of buildings down to the minutest fraction of an inch,—Huffalo Commercial.
